

Hopes Fulfilled 2019 Annual Report

Who We Are

Hopes Fulfilled, Inc. (Hopes Fulfilled) is a non-profit community development corporation (CDC) providing housing, hands-on educational, agri-business and technology resources and consulting with a focus on the Evanston community of Cincinnati, Ohio. The CDC has formed partnerships with neighborhood schools, community-based organizations and community advocates to create customized, self-sustaining solutions that meet the unique needs of the community's underserved populations.

What We Do

- Hopes Fulfilled provides practical, hands-on support for the development of community gardens, micro-farming and scalable farm-to-table crops, and will act as a liaison between small-scale and micro-farming communities and potential local, regional or national partners and benefactors.
- Additionally, we provide educational support in the areas of financial literacy, business planning, sustainable agriculture and agri-business. Hopes Fulfilled also creates channels through which program participants and/or at-large residents of the community can obtain gainful employment due to market expansion resulting from community investments.
- Lastly, we develop strategies and methods for investing/re-investing profits to create long-term social and economic equity for underserved and/or marginalized populations.

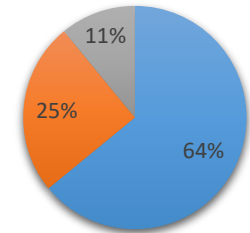

Leadership

Within five years, it is anticipated that Hopes Fulfilled's management team will consist of the Board of Directors and the program's Executive Director, Hope Johnson Gordon. A team of professional program coordination and fundraising managers will be assembled to manage and grow the program. Although to-day operations are presently managed by the executive director, the Board is currently seeking cross-disciplinary representation with legal, marketing, business development, agricultural and technology expertise.
